The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, July 22. 1707.

London, July 22.

'YEsterday arriv'd 2 Mails from Ostend. 'The last is of Friday the 11th Instant: The freshest Print by it, is the 'Antwerp Courant of July 22. N. S; 'and all the News in that Print, is in 'the following Articles.

Marseilles, July 8. We have receiv'd Advice, that the 5th Instant, 10000 Men of the Forces of the Allies came over the Steep Mountains of Tende without any Opposition, and extended themselves into the County of Nice; there to wait for Reinforcements, with Provisions, Artillery, and Baggage. Yesterday Morning we were put into Alarm here, on the Appearance of 20 Ships which were suppos'd to be English, off the Tour de Bouc; but towards Noon we were deliver'd of our Fears, those Ships proving to be Transports that were come back from Rouffillon, whither they had carried Stores of Provisions and Ammunition for the Troops under the Duke de Noailles. 'Tis reported 4000 Men are on the March hither for our Garrison. 30 Cannon are added to those of the Castle of If, and its Magazine is fill'd with Provisions and Ammunition.

Riez in Provence, July 9. Upon the Enemy's March through the Col de Tende into the County of Nice, all this Province is in Alarm. The Marshal de Tesse is encamp'd with the greatest Part of his Army between Glandeves and Vence, on this Side of the River Var; and he pretends to dispute with the Enemy the Passages of that River. We hear that our Troops which were encamp'd near Valence, have pass'd the River Durance at Sisteron, and have joyn'd the Marshal de Tesse near Glandeves: So that he is suppos'd to be in a Condition now to make Head against the Enemy. In the mean Time the People of this Country forsake their Dwellings, so that many Villages are intirely abandon'd, and the Consternation increases daily.

Paris, July 18. Letters from Madrid of the 4th of this Month confirm, that the Heats are so excessive in Estramadura, that the Marquis de Bay has been oblig'd not only to put the Gross of his Body of Men into Quarters of Refreshment, but likewise to withdraw those Troops he left to block up Olivenza; having first ruin'd the Bridge over the Guadiana to prevent the Garrisons making Incursions into Spain. The Chevalier d'Asfeldt has besieg'd Denia, for which Service he is furnish'd with great Stores of Ammunition and Provisions: 'Tis propos'd that after he has taken that Place, he shall lay Siege to Alicant: But both those Places having English Garrisons, there is Cause to apprehend they will not be easily taken. The Castle of Mequinenza continues to make a vigorous Defence: The Duke of Orleans hastens the repairing of the Bridge of Fraga, that he may pass the Cinca with his Foot, Cannon and Baggage. The Enemy at Lerida have receiv'd new Reinforcements from Catalonia, and pretend to be in a Condition to dispute our Entrance into that Principality. Several Ships are arriv'd lately at Port-Louis and St. Malo from the South-Sea, richly laden for the Account of our Merchants. Yesterday Morning the King receiv'd two Expresses from Provence, but there is little made publick of what they bring; 'tis only given out, that above 8000 Inhabitants of the Places most expos'd have taken Arms, and besought the Marshal de Tesse to forbear executing the Order sent him from Court to burn all the Villages in Provence, promising to help to defend the Country against the Enemy. At the same Time, it being much apprehended the Enemy have Intelligence with the new Converts, who are numerous in that Part of the Kingdom, our Generals use great Diligence to cause them to be disarm'd.

From the Camp at Meldert, July 20. The 18th one of our Parties brought in 60 French Prisoners with 30 Horses. Yesterday one of our Parties of Horse was worsted by the Enemy near Judoigne, and forc'd to retire with the Loss of 40 Men and some Horses. 1800 Men that were order'd to march to Maestricht, are countermanded. The French have strengthen'd their Army with 8 Battallions drawn out of Mons, Charleroy, and Namur. We have no Talk yet of decamping.

Dublin. The 11th of July, the House of Commons of this Kingdom took into Consideration the Lord Lieutenant's Speech: And a Motion being made that a Supply be granted to the Queen, it was resolv'd that on the 14th the House should resolve it self into a Committee of the whole House, to take the said Motion into Consideration. Order'd that the Consideration of the Lord Lieutenant's Speech should be referr'd to the said Committee; and that the publick Accounts should be laid before the House the 12th.

The 12th the publick Accounts were presented to the House, and order'd to be laid on the Table to be perus'd by the Members. According to Order, Heads of several Bills were presented to the House, viz.

A Bill for explaining and limiting Privilege of Parliament.

-------for the better securing the Liberty of the Subject, and for preventing of Imprisonment beyond the Seas.

-------for the publick Regiſtring of all Deeds, Conveyances, and Wills that shall be made of any Honours, Mannors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments.

-------for

------for suppreſſing Lotteries and Gaming-Tables.

All which were read, and ſeverally committed to Committees of the whole Houſe.

Then the Houſe in a Committee, took into Conſideration a Bill entitled An Act for the amending and continuing an Act made in the 2d Year of Her Majeſty, entitled an Act for the Recovery of ſmall Debts in a ſummary Way before the Judges of Aſſize: Which they went through, and order'd it to be reported the 14th.

Never Acted there before.

By her Majeſty's Company of Comedians.
